Focused High-Quality Investing

The investment objective of the Gator Focus Fund is to seek long-term capital appreciation. We believe the Fund has an attractive investment strategy:

1. More Potential for Growth - Our investments in the Fund will be in small and mid-sized company stocks because we believe they have more potential growth.
2. Stock Market is Less Efficient With Smaller Companies - We believe the market for smaller company stocks is less efficient due to fewer investors following these smaller companies.
3. Focus on High-Quality Businesses - In the Fund, we will focus on companies with high quality businesses. This means the company has:
 - a. A competitive advantage such as brand or market position,
 - b. It has a business model which generates attractive economics, and,
 - c. Its management treats shareholders as partners

With the Fund's concentrated portfolio of small company stocks, our goal is to meaningfully outperform the Fund's benchmark, the Russell 2000 Index®. With the availability of low-cost exchange traded funds (or ETFs), it is quite easy and routine these days for investors to get exposure to virtually any segment of the stock market with minimal fees. We believe there is little to no advantage of investing in a mutual fund that seeks to deliver returns similar to a benchmark.

We hope to differentiate the Gator Focus Fund by attempting to outperform its benchmark by a meaningful amount. Of course, we can't guarantee that the Fund will outperform, and we expect there will be periods where the Fund will underperform. However, over time, we hope we will be able to manage the Fund so it outperforms its benchmark and will make it a compelling investment compared to an ETF tracking the same benchmark.

Fund Objective

The Gator Focus Fund's objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation.

Investment Strategy

The Fund pursues its investment objective by investing primarily in equity securities of small-cap companies. The Fund considers a small-cap company to be one that has market capitalization of less than the largest component of the Russell 2000 Index. Under normal market conditions, the Fund will invest at least 65% of its total assets in equity securities of small-cap companies. The Fund also may invest in equity securities of mid-cap companies. The Fund considers a mid-cap company to be one that has market capitalization less than the largest member of the Russell 2500 Index.

In selecting investments for the Fund, the Adviser primarily uses a value-focused investment philosophy derived from the Adviser's view that the price of a company's common stock represents, over time, the value of the company's underlying business.

Using the foregoing and other factors, the Adviser seeks to purchase securities that the Adviser believes are trading at a discount to that intrinsic value. The Adviser generally seeks to sell securities when the price of the securities significantly exceeds the Adviser's calculation of intrinsic value. The Adviser may also sell securities when a company's business story or fundamentals have materially changed, or a more attractive investment alternative is available.
